

The following publications reflect a vast cross-section of Soviet society after the era of the Second World War, a period in which the fledgling Soviet Union was transformed into a global superpower despite social and political crises of enormous proportion and catastrophic losses of life. The titles below are impressively varied in their geographic spread and areas of topical focus, offering unique insight into the daily life and evolving politics of Soviet Russia after the war.

Extensively long runs:

There are nearly 200 titles in this collection and they cover the period after the Second World War up to 1989. Total reel count for the entire collection nearly 4,000 reels. We are pleased to offer very extensive backfiles of the following six well-known newspapers from Moscow, which are also available on a standing order basis.
