

We've arranged our resources by subject, so it's easy to jump to the topic you want. Simply select a resource and click on the link.

HOMEWORK HELP

Access these resources for accurate, comprehensive answers that will make any teacher proud.

- eLibrary For students of any age. Great for all types of school projects and questions, with encyclopedia-like articles on any topic.
- eLibrary Elementary Ideal for grade-schoolers. Easy to use, fun, reliable, and safe. Specially screened to exclude inappropriate materials.
- CultureGrams Learn how people really live in the U.S. and around the world. Short, reliable reports show history, climate, government, everyday life, and more.
- Teacher Journals Over 300 magazines and journals that make good teachers great.

NEWSPAPERS

Clippings, ads, editorials, and more—the complete contents of a wide variety of newspapers, easily searched on any topic.

- Ethnic NewsWatch Newspapers and magazines of the ethnic, minority, and native press, from 1991 on.
- Alt-PressWatch Want a different viewpoint? Read the newspapers, magazines, and journals of the alternative and independent press.
- National Newspapers
 - The New York Times The authoritative record of national and international news and opinion
 - Los Angeles Times The voice of the West Coast, with news on politics, the film industry, and trends that are sure to spread
 - The Wall Street Journal The international business newspaper of record with stocks, business news, and more

MAGAZINE ARCHIVES

Thousands of magazines—from popular to scholarly—digitized so they're easy to search. Complete articles appear on your screen with a click.

- ABI/INFORM Trade & Industry Specialized business magazines. Read about companies and markets, as well as products, executives, trends, and more.
- ProQuest Research Library Answers to every question, from babysitting tips to chemical formulas. Thousands of journals, magazines, and newspapers you can approach in two ways - a core set for the basics or in these supplemental subject units.
 - Arts—For students, practitioners, and fans
Art, dance, theater, cinema, and more

- Business—Do you run a business? Do you need help planning for retirement?
Magazines and journals in economics, personal finance, marketing, management, and more
- Children—For you and your child!
Reading for and about kids
- Education—For teachers, administrators, and ed-school students (good for home-schoolers too!)
Administration, policy, teaching practices, and more
- General Interest—Great for enriching your personal life
Hobbies, fashion, consumer ratings, travel, reading for enjoyment, and more
- Health—Illness, wellness, treatment, and societal support
Diseases and conditions, substance abuse, health insurance, health policy, and more
- Humanities—The thoughts and doings of humanity
Communication, history, journalism, literature, philosophy, religion, and more
- International—What’s happening abroad?
Culture, history, social policy, politics, and more
- Law—Is my handwritten will legal? What does joint tenancy mean?
Magazines and periodicals on legal subjects like business, civil, and criminal law
- Military—National Guard to the border? Strategic errors in Iraq?
Defense, aeronautics and space flight, logistics, and more
- Multicultural—Study your culture, learn about others
Periodicals by and about minorities, ethnic groups, gays/lesbians, and more
- Psychology—Isn’t there a new drug for schizophrenia? How can I help my child learn?
Human development, learning, psychiatry, and more
- Sciences—Science Fair is coming! Great for students and professionals
Agriculture, biology, chemistry, computers, engineering, physics, and more
- Social Sciences—The Kwakiutl, crime patterns, city planning
Anthropology, culture, criminology, political science, social welfare and more
- Women’s Interest—When Billie Jean beat Bobby...
A wide range of periodicals related to women’s issues

GENERAL REFERENCE

Have a question and don’t know where to start? Here’s where the experts go for complete, accurate answers.

- ProQuest Discovery Over 2,200 magazine and newspaper titles, plus hundreds of popular and children’s titles.
- ProQuest Platinum A slightly smaller collection (2,000 titles) that meets a wide range of needs, from general reference to advanced subject matter.
- ProQuest Gold A great reference tool for high schoolers; 750 relevant titles that make learning enjoyable.
- JuniorQuest 250 titles designed for middle schoolers with youth-friendly searching and carefully chosen sources.
- ProQuest Reference Module The almanacs and other annually released reference materials from ProQuest Platinum, for quick and easy access.